IWC Tranche 1 2020

“Opaque, youthful colour with oaky, spicy notes, concentrated blackcurrant, bramble, morello cherry and blueberries with black pepper.”

The Real Review, Nick Butler, January 2020

“Classic regional characters at play here: cassis, tobacco, choc-mint and cedar. The mid-palate has an ethereal glide to it, just enough fruit with just enough spicy oak. The finish is long and assured. Classy.”

The Real Review, Ralph Kyte-Powell, March 2020

“Deeply-coloured with a classic regional/varietal nose reminiscent of briar, blackcurrant, mint and mocha. The palate flows seamlessly and medium-bodied, with lovely balance and just enough cabernet austerity to keeping it savoury and lip-smacking. Fine ripe tannins are in tasty harmony.”

Sam Kim, Wine Orbit, December 2019

“It’s gorgeously ripe and inviting on the nose showing blackcurrant, dark plum, olive and roasted nut characters with a hint of vanilla complexity. It’s wonderfully flavoursome on the palate, delivering succulent fruit intensity together with silky texture and chalky tannins, finishing harmonious and persistent. At its best: now to 2028.”
